

MENTOR APPLICATION

2005 CES/AEA MENTORING PROGRAM

CES is looking for a mentor for the 2005 Mentoring Program. The Program began with the Directorate for Education and Human Resources of the National Science Foundation (NSF)'s interest in expanding the numbers of professional evaluators and increasing the sensitivity of all evaluators to cultural context. To promote that ideal and to attract graduate students in appropriate fields (e.g., psychology, sociology, public health, education), NSF offered support to a limited number of students with a strong interest in evaluation to attend the American Evaluation Association (AEA) annual meetings. Though the funding is no longer available; AEA is working together with CES to continue the Mentoring Program.

Students who qualify will be assigned a professional evaluator to serve as a mentor during the conference and throughout the upcoming academic year. We hope that you will be a mentor for a student in this Program. Other benefits offered to the students include attendance at this year's Joint CES/AEA Conference, one pre-conference workshop and a special Mentoring Program luncheon; Receive a one-year membership to both the CES and the AEA and receive publications throughout the year; Have an opportunity to meet and mingle with student and professional evaluators.
